Edible Book Reading Challenge

Students and adults, you’re invited! Help us promote reading and make your favorite book character or represent your favorite part of a book using only food. Bring your edible book entry to display on Friday March 29th at the Bradley library. Please write your name, grade level, and reading teacher’s name on the container. Students will be released 5 minutes before the end of the school day on March 29th to pick up their edible book entry to take home. All projects that are not picked up will be thrown away at 4pm.

Bonus! Since you will already have your entry ready, take it to the next level and enter the NEISD Edible Book Festival on March 31st at Los Lomas Elementary.

If you have any questions, please see Ms. Sanchez in the library or email rsanch7@neisd.net

Ingredients:
goldfish, marshmallow, melted chocolate, Blue food coloring, graham cracker, sprinkles

Ingredients:
cereal icing gingerbread almonds coconut confetti green food coloring dried mangos
Edible Book Reading Challenge

Name: ______________________  Grade: _____  8th period teacher: ________________

Reading Teacher: ________________  Parent Contact Phone Number: ________________

Book title:
________________________________________________________

Author: ________________

Book Summary:
________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________

Ingredients used:
________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________